

Mr Lucas Litewka

Director USC Clinical Trials Centre

Lucas joined the University of the Sunshine Coast (USC), as the inaugural Director of the Clinical Trials Centre in 2015. The primary focus of this role was to take a greenfield opportunity and create an industry-focused Clinical Trials Centre on the Sunshine Coast and extend a network of activities across Queensland. Lucas has demonstrated his effectiveness as a member of a high performance leadership team in the formulation, development and implementation of critical business strategies both at Board level and within organisations on senior leadership teams. He has a sound understanding of the Hospital, Health, University and Research sectors, along with the ability to understand and interpret government policy to align with the organisation's business strategy and the ability to build strong relationships across all levels in an ethical and sustainable manner. He has been recently appointed to join the Health Care Committee of the Australian Advisory Board on Technology and Healthcare Competitiveness
