

Dr Ryan Parlett

Director Business Management, Patheon, Part of Thermo Fisher Scientific Patheon Biologics Australia Pty Ltd

Ryan is responsible for managing all new and on-going business relationships for Patheon's Brisbane manufacturing facility. Prior to joining Patheon, Ryan had spent the previous six years in consulting roles, most recently at Deloitte, advising biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies on R&D and financing. He also had a particular focus on advising international companies inbound to Australia in relation to corporate structuring and accessing the R&D Tax Incentive. Ryan was also previously involved in the identification, protection and commercialisation of both patentable and non-patentable intellectual property (IP) at UniQuest, the main commercialisation entity for the University of Queensland and in the Business Development Office at the QIMR Berghofer Medical Research Institute in Brisbane, Australia. Ryan has a PhD in oncology and immunology, undertaken a post-doctoral position at the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York, US and has over 17 years' of experience in the biotechnology and pharmaceutical sector. Ryan is also the current Chair for the Queensland Branch of AusBiotech, member of the Healthcare Committee and Innovation Committee for the American Chamber of Commerce in Australia, and a long-standing member of the Licensing Executives Society, Australia and New Zealand (LESANZ).